

Art Course

Facilitator:

Brent Dodd Is an Artist & Visual Art Educator @ Maritzburg College

Objectives & Course Summary

The aim of this course is to identify an individual's language or style of expression in art. This is a beginner's art course that will focus on identifying and understanding the 'code' required in order to 'abstract' or simplify the three dimensional world onto a two dimensional surface/canvas. This will be done through drawing, initially, then moving into brush techniques.

Outline:

First session

- Introduction to colour with paint.
- Building the art work. Assimilating code, colour, composition to conclusion.
- Confidence building.

Second session

- Building the art work. Assimilating code, colour, composition to conclusion.
- School work, old work and how to keep going.

Last session

- Analysis of works
- Discussing portfolios
- How to go forward
